AMERICA WILL NEED MEN.—The Paris Temps expresses satisfaction at a reported increase in the number of male children born in America and predicts that they will be needed to meet the increased demand for soldiers necessitated by the acquisition of colonial territory. The paper goes on to state that the United States cannot hide the fact that it "has said goodbye forever to the idyllic era in which it dispensed with a large standing army and laughed at the heavy burdens imposed upon the nations of Europe by their international situations.

"There is not a democrat, not a friend of the principles that regulate modern society," continues the Temps, "who does not deplore bitterly the inoculation with a spirit of conquest of territories and expansion by a democracy that hitherto has been peaceful and liberal. President McKinley may say farewell for free America, to the era of peace and good will, reforms, economy, internal progress and self-government."

LA GRIFFE SUCCESSFULLY TREATED.—"I have just recovered from the second attack of la grippe this year," says Mr. Jas. A. Jones, publisher of the Leader, Mexico, Texas. "In the latter case I used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and I think with considerable success, only being in bed a little over two days against ten days for the former attack. The second attack I am satisfied would have been equally as bad as the first, but for the use of this remedy as I had to go to bed in about six hours after being 'struck' with it, while in the first case I was able to attend to business about two days before getting 'down.'" For sale by W. Richardson, druggist.

Briefs.

Mrs. Matilda J. Colston, relict of the late Armistead Colston, died at the home of her son, Mr. Frank Colston, in Clarke county, last Thursday afternoon, aged 84 years. Deceased was an estimable lady and is survived by eight daughters and three sons, viz: Mrs. John Ford, Mrs. Bettie Carter, Mrs. Benj. Ford, Misses Annie and Laura Colston, of Clarke county; Mrs. George Rodgers, of Missouri; Mrs. Harriet Shepherd, of Indiana; Mrs. John Colston, of Charlestown, and Messrs. Frank, Edward and Randolph Colston. She was also a sister of the late Martin Gaunt, of this county. The funeral took place from the house Saturday morning at 11 o'clock, with Rev. Julian Broadbush, pastor of the Baptist Church, officiating, and the remains interred in Mt. Hebron Cemetery, Winchester.

Phila: "Oleine", a fine grade of Laundry Soap, 1 lb. cakes 5 cts. each, at W. Richardson's.

From a card that appears in our advertising columns today it will be seen that Mr. R. D. Hardesty, (who recently accepted a position as assistant cashier in the Bank of Clarke County,) has disposed of his entire stock of goods to Mr. D. H. Jones, who will conduct the business at Mr. Hardesty's old stand. Mr. Wm. Dix, who is familiar with the trade and well known to the customers of this old business stand, is retained by Mr. Jones.

Try Phila: "Oleine" Soap. It's fine. Sold by W. Richardson, Druggist.

Mr. Benjamin F. Pierce, a well-known farmer, was adjudged a lunatic by a commission appointed for that purpose, and application has been made to the Western State Hospital for his admission therein. Mr. Pierce's mind was unbalanced several years ago, but yielded to treatment at the same institution, and he was thought to have entirely recovered.

For Fine Laundry (Laces, &c.) try Phila: "Oleine". You will not be disappointed. W. Richardson.

The weather last week made some great changes. On Monday morning the thermometer was several degrees below zero, and four or five inches of snow lay upon the ground; on Wednesday night a warm breeze from the South caused the snow to disappear, and Thursday one was one tempted to lay aside overcoats; on Saturday freezing weather was again on hand.

The fourth quarterly meeting of the M. E. Church will begin on Saturday next, January 14th, at 2 o'clock p. m., at Noble Memorial Church, to be followed by protracted services which may last for a week or more.

MONEY TO LOAN where first class security—must be real estate—can be furnished. Apply to Snyder & Crown, real estate agents.

As the beginning of the year is a good time to settle accounts we hope our delinquent subscribers will not neglect this matter any longer, but call and settle. We want to make the COURIER a success, but it cannot be done by sending it to persons who will not pay for it. A starved paper, like a starved horse, cannot do all that is expected of it.

Col. E. V. White, the famous commander of White's battalion of cavalry, has gone to Cuba where he will spend the winter with the hope of improving his health. He is accompanied by his son, E. B. White, The Leesburg Washingtonian from which we take this information about the movements of the Colonel, says: "He and Gen. Fitz will have a genuine Confederate hug when they meet."

Rev. J. W. Tongue, a former well-known minister of the Southern Methodist Church, died in Washington recently at the home of his niece, aged 78 years. Mr. Tongue was a native of Warrenton, Va. He has been on the supernatant list for a number of years, and made his home at Charlestown.

The sympathy of his friends in this community reach out to Judge Robt. H. Turner, of Front Royal, in the sore bereavement he has sustained by the death of his beloved wife, Mrs. Anna M. Turner, which occurred at her home in that place about ten days ago.

Miss Mary Shumate, daughter of the late Thomas Shumate, died at the residence of her mother, near White Post, on Wednesday of last week.

Rev. Joseph W. Ware, brother to Mr. J. S. Ware of this county and rector of St. James Episcopal Church, at Ashland, was critically ill with typhoid fever last week.

We are requested to state that the usual services may be expected in Grace Episcopal Church, on next Sunday, the 15th.

The COURIER tenders its thanks to Mr. S. L. Palmbaum, a prominent dealer in dry goods, notions, &c., in this place, for remembering it at New Year with a nice gift.

Briefs.

The city of Winchester has just received another large installment of the special bequest of the will of the late Judge John Handley, of Scranton, Pa. The amount already received is $60,000, which was promptly invested in Virginia bonds. One hundred and ninety thousand dollars more will likely be received during the next few months, and this amount will also be invested for the city's benefit. This $250,000 is in no way connected with the suit against the estate, as the alleged heirs are not suing on direct bequests, but on the residuary legacies, in which, however, Winchester is also interested to a large extent. When the $250,000 above named shall have accumulated a like amount, then the $500,000 will be used for the erection of industrial schools and a public library in this city. The portion of the Handley fund already invested in Virginia bonds has increased 15 per cent, which represents the advance in the market value of the same.

Mr. Chas. Broadway Rouss, the generous hearted merchant prince of New York, has repeatedly shown that he carries an open hand for his friends in Winchester. The Union Fire Company of that city intend to honor his next birthday, February 11th, with a celebration, and as Mr. Rouss will not be able to attend in person, he has sent his check of $1000 in order that the firemen may enjoy a royal banquet.

The Evening Star, which daily shines with the news of Winchester and its surroundings, as well as from other points, came to its last week enlarged to five columns per page. We are glad to note this evidence of its prosperity.

Hotel Evans, Winchester, changed hands again last week by the recent manager, James Hammill, resigning. He is succeeded by Gideon P. Ricker, who has been with the Evans nearly two years.

E. E. Herring, a leading merchant of Winchester, operating the Bee Hive stores, dry goods and notions, made an assignment last week. The liabilities are $7,285, and estimated assets $5000.

James H. Castleman, a laborer residing in the neighborhood of Bruce town, has been committed to jail in Winchester upon a charge of criminal intimacy with his young stepdaughter, Laura Hooper.

The price of wheat remains around the figures quoted a week ago, No. 2 red selling in Baltimore at 76 cents per bushel. The visible supply, notwithstanding the large shipments last week, shows a slight increase, the total visible being 27,358,000. Corn holds its price at 40 1/2 cents per bushel. Hogs bring $3.70@3.90 per 100 lbs.

The Stonewall Chapter, U. D. C., will hold their regular monthly meeting at Camp Hall on Thursday evening next, at 3 o'clock. A full attendance is desired.

The Coming Poultry Show.

Our readers are requested to bear in mind that the 3rd annual exhibition of the Shenandoah Valley Poultry and Pigeon Association will begin at Winston Hall on Wednesday of next week, January 18th, and continue until Friday night, Jan. 20th. The hall will be open from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. of each day, and we understand the exhibit will be unusually interesting both in quantity and quality of stock.

The utility in these exhibitions lies in the fact that our people learn from personal observation the possibilities of poultry raising by paying special attention to select stock. If any one had said forty or more years ago that chickens weighing double as much as the average then grown could be produced he would have been laughed at, but the fancier of select breeds has shown that this was easy of accomplishment. We are indebted to the fancier for high standards in the animal as well as the feathered kingdom, and as everybody can raise fowls, and good ones, they ought to visit our poultry show to learn what can be accomplished on that line. The association having in charge the show has not made anything as an organization, but it finds pleasure in seeing that its work is bearing fruit, since there has developed much interest in growing improved poultry.

To My Patrons.

I have sold my stock of goods to Mr. D. H. Jones, who takes charge today. And I want to express my gratitude and sincere thanks to my friends, who have so long patronized me, and assure them that it hurts me very much to break the association.

Would be most glad to see my friends, and hope as many as possible can will continue to trade at the old stand, where, I am satisfied Mr. Jones and Mr. Wm. S. Dix, who will remain with him, will make you feel at home. Yrs. truly,

R. D. HARDESTY.

The Boom Case Enjoined.

When Judge Nicol opened the special term of our circuit court on Wednesday of last week to try the case of Thos. D. Gold, receiver of the Berryville Land and Improvement Co., against Reed & McCormick, for unpaid assessments due on the stock held by them in said company, it was found that the progress of the trial was stopped for the present by an injunction issued by Judge Atkinson, of the corporation court of Winchester, who granted the restraining order upon the application of the defendants, in which they allege that the debts of the company had not been properly ascertained in the report presented by commissioner Ward, appointed to ascertain the same in the chancery cause of G. C. Ricamore vs. the Berryville Land and Imp. Co., because certain sums of money voted by the directors as salaries, without the stockholders authorizing the same, was in contravention of the statute. The defendants claim that the debts audited against the company should be credited with the sums of money paid the directors thereof. The counsel for the receiver urged the court to disregard the injunction on the ground that it was in effect an order restraining the court, but the court declined to do so, whereupon counsel also moved that the defendants in the action at law be required to file their pleas or a statement of their defense, which motion was also overruled by the court, and the case was continued. Counsel for the receiver have given notice of a motion to dissolve the injunction to be heard on the 17th of this month.

Concerning the allegation that money of the company was voted as salaries to the directors, Mr. Moore, president of the company, says:

"It is but just to the directors to say that they deny that one penny was paid to, or received by, them for their services as directors."

Another case decided at this session of the court was that of Johnson and wife against Carson. This was an old suit, and in its early stages about $1200 was paid to Frank E. Conrad, as special commissioner, and there was no evidence that this sum had ever been disbursed. The court held that Frank E. Conrad and Holmes Conrad his surety were liable for the fund. Messrs. R. M. Ward and R. E. Byrd represented the complainants and Col. J. J. Williams the defendants.

The Next Legislature.

"Shepherd," the Richmond correspondent of the Warren Sentinel, thus discourses concerning legislative timber in the counties of Clarke, Warren and Page:

"There will be an unusually large number of candidates for the Legislature in Richmond, and by the way, people from the old Gibraltar say that Clarke, Page and Warren are going to send Thomas D. Gold to the Senate, H. H. Downing and R. S. Parkes to the House. Well, Mr. Editor, all that your correspondent has to say, is this, that if he had the selection of candidates he could not have suggested better, higher or abler men than those named. Tom Gold, why everybody knows him. A gallant soldier, a good citizen, and famous as a democrat without guile, and chairman of his party in Clarke, and Downing, one of the most brilliant men in the State, and who ought to be to day and for years gone by Speaker of the House. Parkes, the acknowledged Nestor of the House, a great favorite and the oracle. His county should keep him there as long as he lives. No abler man than Parkes ever sat in the Legislature."

Drank Muratic Acid.

The Winchester Star of Thursday last says: Mr. Stewart Yeakley, a prosperous young farmer residing on the Pughtown pike about two-and-a-half miles from Winchester and Mr. Martin Buncutter an aged resident of the same locality, were both accidentally poisoned late yesterday evening by swallowing a portion of the contents of a bottle containing muratic acid, a deadly corrosive poison. Fortunately assistance was close at hand and although the recovery of Buncutter is doubtful, Yeakley, who did not swallow any of the fluid but merely burned his lips with it is out of danger. The accident occurred while the men were riding on the road homeward and was the result of Buncutter mistaking the acid for apple brandy. Buncutter, who as stated, is the more seriously injured, was taken to the home of Dr. J. E. Janney and antidotes administered.

Bridging the Opequon.

[Read before the Mutual Farmers Club of Frederick county by Lewis Pidgeon.]

Would it not be to the best interest of Frederick and Clarke counties to vigorously agitate the question of building a bridge across the Opequon somewhere in this part of the two counties?

To answer very briefly I think it would. There are really so few days in the course of a year when the stream cannot be forded that many people think the building of a bridge would be useless expense. The fact too that when the stream is too high to be crossed the roads are not in fit condition for the farmer's team to be upon them, is another argument of force against the need for a bridge. This kind of talk, however, is on par with that we occasionally hear from some unfortunate antiquated specimens, who plead that railroads have been a disadvantage to the country, and tell in glowing terms of the good old times when our products were all waggoned to the markets and the few luxuries obtainable at all were brought to us the same way.

We have passed that stage of development, and had Virginia kept the lead of the states that she once held she would surely now be past the stage where streams of the size of the Opequon are crossed in the same rude way used by the aborigines. If Virginia wants capitalists to come and develop her resources, (and she ought to want them) she needs to make things look as attractive and prosperous as possible; and nothing speaks the prosperity, the thorough civilization of a country like its roads, and good roads are not complete without good bridges over the streams. Yes it would be to the advantage of our farmers to agitate this question, not more for the convenience it would afford them than for the untold amount it would enhance the value of adjacent property. And we don't merely need a bridge, we need at least two of them. The crossing of the Winchester and Berryville pike should be bridged by all means. Then there should be at least one other between that and the present one near Middleway. Yes, fellow farmers always advocate advancement and improvement.

TO THE PUBLIC.—We are authorized to guarantee every bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and if not satisfactory to refund the money to the purchaser. There is no better medicine made for la grippe, colds and whooping cough. Price, 25 and 50c. per bottle. Try it. W. Richardson, druggist.

CAVERN DISCOVERED.—The residents of Fairmont avenue were mildly exercised over an attraction their neighborhood has fallen heir to by some freak of nature, and numerous interested persons are visiting the site of the old Allemon & Fries factory to investigate the yawning cavity which has suddenly made its appearance. The cavity, or sink hole, as it is called for convenience, is about six feet square and apparently has no bottom. Mr. Foster Gray dropped several stones into the orifice but could not detect the slightest sound which would warn him of striking bottom. The sink hole dawns upon the inhabitants without them having the slightest idea that such a thing would occur and it is said the place could be an old well or pit.—Winchester Star.

IT SAVES THE CHILDREN.—Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has saved the lives of thousands of croupy children. It is also without an equal for colds and whooping coughs.

The jury in the case of J. Penrose Carter, tried in the County Court of Henrico for the murder of Charles Fox Moore, were unable to agree and were discharged on Saturday. This makes a third trial necessary.

The Cadets at New Market.

For the COURIER.

Cadets, from the General
This order has come:
No time can be lost,
The hill must be won.

The fate of the battle
Trembles the balance:
By all you hold sacred,
Hasten to advance.

With awful crash, right in their midst,
That dreadful shell explodes,
Dress centre—calmly says Scott Shippi:
Those fearful gaps are closed.

Forward—guide centre—march—they go,
As if on dress parade;
As if those dreadful sounds of woe—
This crashing cannonade—

Were but the music of their band,
Upon some gala-day;
As if those armies looking on,
Were only friends allay.

Oh, grand and wondrous sight to see,
Those boys go up that hill;
No wonder that the gunners see,
Nor that the battle stilled.

Boyc, Va. GEO. B. HARRISON.

General Brooke was examined by the war investigation commission last week and his testimony was exclusively a defense of his own administration at Chickamauga. General Brooke referring to a report to the War Department made by Maj. Parker reflecting on his management, with a show of temper declared the report was incorrect and threatened to court martial Parker. "No, you won't," asserted Dr. Conner. "Yes I will," rejoined General Brooke, "unless this commission protects him." General Beaver declared that although the report was not testimony, it was among papers sent in by the War Department and the commission would protect Parker as it had been granted authority by the President to do so.
